AUSTRALASIAN SOCIETY FOR ASIAN AND COMPARATIVE PHILOSOPHY

14th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE June 2004, China

Dear colleague,

The Australasian Society for Asian and Comparative Philosophy (ASACP) will hold its 14th International Conference at Nanchang, Jianxi Province, China, 25-27 June 2004. The Conference will be hosted by the Faculty of Humanities, Nanchang University. This will be the first time that the ASACP will convene in China.

The theme of the Conference is “Philosophical Heritage and Humanity’s Contemporary Predicament.” Papers on other themes are also welcome, especially those relating to ethics, culture, aesthetics, and politics.

A special Forum on Confucianism, focusing on the continuity of the Confucian tradition will be held at the “White Deer Grotto Academy”, first established by the great Neo-Confucian, Zhu Xi (1130-1200) of the Song Dynasty at Mt. Lu (Lu Shan).

The registration fee is USD10 person. Hotel accommodation will be around USD30 per day for a double room. If you are interest in going on a tour to visit other cities or to the countryside after the Conference please let us know well in advance.

Your participation will be important for the success of this conference. To assist with planning would you please confirm if you intend to participate by filling-in and returning the attached form together with a short abstract in English or Chinese by 31 May, 2004.
